

Mike Lonergan

94708

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Mike Lonergan

Christopher Jonas

94558

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Christopher Jonas

Brett Shields

95405

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Brett Shields

Marjorie Caldwell

94558

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Marjorie Caldwell

David Cooper

95409

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
David Cooper

Ryan Wagner

95404

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Ryan Wagner

Drew Fagent

95403

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Drew Fagent

Steve Heyne

95404

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan, National Trust for Historic Preservation,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Steve Heyne

Leslie Patterson

95409

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Leslie Patterson

Marianne Wilson

95404

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Marianne Wilson

Annie Hallatt

94703

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Annie Hallatt

Michael Clark

95403

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Michael Clark

Marie Dolcini

94559

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Marie Dolcini

sharon maldonado

94706

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
sharon maldonado

Jacquelyn McCormick

94705

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Jacquelyn McCormick

Susan A. Hammer

94609

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Susan A. Hammer

Margot Smith

94709

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Margot Smith

Brian Sullivan

94533

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Brian Sullivan

Stephanie Grohs

94558

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Stephanie Grohs

Karin Troedsson

94559

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Karin Troedsson

deborah schuler

94591

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
deborah schuler

deborah schuler

94591

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
deborah schuler

Barbara Smith

94559

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Barbara Smith

Shauna Bergstrom

94559

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Shauna Bergstrom

Stacey De Shazo

95404

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Stacey De Shazo

Scott Gerien

94559

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Scott Gerien

linda blank

90024

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
linda blank

Cathryn Baylock

94010

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Cathryn Baylock

Molly Roberts

94559

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Molly Roberts

Maureen Theunissen

94558

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Maureen Theunissen

Ermilita Bruce

94558

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Ermilita Bruce

Jennifer Simi

94558

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Simi

Laura Proffitt Schmiegel

94558

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Laura Proffitt Schmiegel

Sarah Barry

94559

Jul 21, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Sarah Barry

Karen Wesson

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Karen Wesson

Jovita Olive

32506

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Jovita Olive

Justin Leach

45214

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Justin Leach

Lori wear

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Lori wear

Karen ULVANG

80538

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Karen ULVANG

Kathleen Clark

11561

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Kathleen Clark

Paul Hohmann

63112

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Paul Hohmann

Gray Brechin

94702

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Gray Brechin

Jeff Schalk

95404

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Jeff Schalk

samanths williams

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
samanths williams

Hali Hammer

94703

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Hali Hammer

Luke Wilson

95401

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Luke Wilson

JoAnne Johnson

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
JoAnne Johnson

Daniella Thompson

94709

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Daniella Thompson

Barbara Remedios

91106

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Barbara Remedios

Laurie Daw

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Laurie Daw

Anne McCallum

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Anne McCallum

Elizabeth (Betty) McCormick Malmgren

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth (Betty) McCormick Malmgren

Elizabeth Healy

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Healy

Juliana inman

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Juliana inman

Patricia Peterson

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Patricia Peterson

Laura Solomon

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Laura Solomon

Megan Rosecrans

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Megan Rosecrans

Margaret Clark

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Margaret Clark

Kirsten Shinnamon Baker

94559

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Kirsten Shinnamon Baker

Kasandra Weinerth

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Kasandra Weinerth

Stephen Cuddy

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Stephen Cuddy

Ann Worel Kester

94558

Jul 22, 2015

Subject: Save Napa's Franklin Station Post Office!

Dear Postmaster General Brennan,

I join the National Trust for Historic Preservation and U.S. Congressman Mike Thompson (D-CA) in sharing my deep concern about the U.S. Postal Service's recently announced plan to demolish the historic Franklin Station post office in Napa, California.

Napa has successfully revitalized its historic downtown in recent years, and the loss of the Franklin Street station would significantly hamper its progress. Though known internationally as a glamorous destination in the heart of America's wine country, this post office offers a window into Napa's more humble past, as it was built by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the New Deal-era.

I urge you to use your authority as the nation's Postmaster General to engage with the community prior to making such a consequential decision and to give meaningful consideration to alternatives that will honor the building's civic heritage and architectural features for the enjoyment of present and future generations.

This building was paid for by taxpayers to serve, delight and inspire the people of Napa. The Franklin Station post office deserves much better than a wrecking ball.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Ann Worel Kester